Day 1- To listen to a news report

In this lesson you will listen to a news report about Apollo's missing item. We will then map the story together using drawings to show the different parts of the news report.

<https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/to-listen-to-a-news-report-6hj68e>

Day 2- To tell a news report from memory

In today's lesson we will use our story map to create an action to represent each part of our news report. Once we've done this we will then have a go at speaking the story, using the story map and actions to help us if we need them.

<https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/to-tell-a-news-report-from-memory-68vp2d>

Day 3- To deepen a news report through role play

In this lesson we will take on the role of different characters and think about how we can change our voice, facial expressions and body language to demonstrate this character to an audience. We will focus mainly on a police officer interviewing Apollo about the crime.

Day 4- To use past tense verbs

In this lesson we will explore how the suffix -ed can be added to regular verbs to make them past tense. We will then use some of these past tense verbs in sentences linked to our news report.
